I. INTRODUCTION

The face pack is an easy way to give your skin a boost. Applying a face pack can help you to relax, and it makes your skin hydrated. It removes all the excess oil from your face and stimulates blood circulation.

Face packs are used to moisturise, cleanse, tone and rejuvenate your skin. Also face masks are designed for each skin and age type. Another reason of applying a face mask is to help relax. And what better way to pamper and treat your skin to goodness than applying a rejuvenating face pack.

A. Benefits of Face Pack

Face packs have now become an important part of the face care and beauty care routine. If you are struggling to find the best advantages of using Face pack then you do not need to look any further. Well, face packs have a wide range of benefits to shower on the facial skin for both men and women. Here, we will let you know about the top skin benefits of Face packs.

Skincare is the vital part that everyone should follow no matter what. Your skin is basically a reflection of what you eat. Eating healthy is one of the most important methods to get the glowing and perfect skin. Face packs are the other because of the unlimited benefits it has to offer. There are plenty of face packs available that can give you the satisfactory skin instantly. You just have to choose the best type of facial pack according to your skin type.

B. Advantages

Face masks are one of the best and effective skincare products that everyone should use for clear and glowing skin. They come for every type of skin both for men and women. Our skin is undoubtedly the most sensitive of all the body parts that need great care and attention. Therefore, if you are still not using them then this is the right time to use them. Here, we have come up with the top perks of introducing face masks to your beauty and skincare routine.

- 1) Face masks don't just offer results that improve the overall appearance of your skin; they can also be quite therapeutic. You get the utmost relief and relaxation by applying the facial packs on the skin.
- 2) Sure, cleansing each day helps to clean your skin by removing dirt, oil, makeup and impurities from the surface of the skin. But using the right kind of facial masks can take the cleansing process to another level.
- 3) The facial pack helps in removing the excess oils from the face. It'll also help to remove the build-up of dead skin cells that accumulate on our skin. When you remove all the debris from the surface of your skin, it'll help to unclog pores, too.
- 4) The regular use of the facial masks will help you stimulate the blood circulation. The process of the mask drying on your skin and beginning to harden, along with the removal of the mask, causes an expansion of the blood vessels in your skin.
- 5) Masking helps all of your other skin care products work more efficiently. By masking on a regular basis, you can ensure that you are toning, hydrating and protecting products will all perform better, providing you with the results you're looking to achieve at a much faster pace.

C. Procedure

II. BENEFITS OF SKIN HYDRATED FACE PACK

Sure, cleansing each day helps clean your skin by removing dirt, oil, makeup, and impurities from its surface, but did you know that proper masking takes the cleansing process to a whole new level?

Only a good facial mask can help draw out impurities that hide beneath the epidermis' top layers. Some people say their skin goes through a "detoxing" when using a mask because they notice the changes in the skin while this is happening.

Masks are incredible at providing this deeper cleansing process, which leads to an improvement in the appearance of pores that you can see and feel. Who doesn't love that?
